Step 4 : The END

You must finish your fable with a moral (A lesson that can you learn from a story or experience)

Here's a list of famous morals, help yourself or invent your own!

Beware of flatterers.

Choose the lesser of two evils.

Every tale is not to be believed.

Look before you leap.

Once bitten, twice shy.

Slow but steady wins the race.

The battle is not always won by the strong.

There are two sides to every truth.

Think before you act.

Union is strength.

YOUR TURN NOW!

To improve your story, you must use linking words

☆	First, and, but so, then, because
☆☆	Therefore, consequently, that is the reason why, moreover, however

Good luck !
