STADIUM FOR ALL

The Matmut Atlantique is a new generation multifunction venue conceived to welcome a rich and diversified programming within its walls as well as in its courtyards, working in synergy with the already existing facilities found around the site.

With a maximum seating capacity of 42,115, the largest sporting and cultural arena in the south west is destined to open its doors to all the region's inhabitants for a diversity of events in a spirit of conviviality and enjoyment for all.²

Sporting events

Soccer represents an important share of the proposed events at the Matmut ATLANTIQUE. Besides all of the resident club's games, the Girondins de Bordeaux, the arena hosted international competitions such as the Euro 2016, international games for the French National Team along with women's soccer meets, and on a more unusual note, the stadium could see the Australian football team and the Bombers.

The south west being home to numerous professional rugby clubs, the stadium also honors the oval ball. The most exciting European interclub competitions such as the Heineken Cup and the Amlin Challenge Cup are also programmed without forgetting several international games of the French National Team, whether in test phase or in the context of large competitions.

The Matmut Atlantique will also honor other sporting disciplines by hosting mechanical sports exhibitions and competitions (supercross, freestyle motocross, stunt, trial, and karting), equestrian sports (jumping, dressage), skateboarding, inline skating, and biking (BMX, mountain bike).

Cultural events

The Matmut Atlantique will be able to transform itself easily and become the Atlantic's most beautiful entertainment venue, a necessary stop for national and international stars on their European tour. With three possible stage configurations (front, side and central), it will host concerts, musicals, festivals, operas and many more cultural spectacles. The stadium's reception areas will also be able to receive temporary exhibitions, art competitions, photo galleries...

General public

More than 37,000 covered seats will be available to the spectators (aside from VIP facilities). All stands will be accessed through a passageway, unique in its design that includes around twenty food outlets, activity areas, shops for related products as well as the restrooms. This covered area will allow to follow the event while eating, spending time with friends and other enthusiasts. It is a true center for sharing and conviviality. The ground floor restaurant, with its brasserie feel, will also welcome those spectators wishing to dine in unusual surroundings. For individuals with limited mobility, 125 seats have been reserved for them along with an additional 125 for their guides and 4 elevators. Many additional seats have been fitted to receive disabled spectators (visually or hearing impaired...).
